Below is the contact information for some of the professionals in the Fraser Health region who indicate that they provide autism assessments.

Families would need to contact each professional individually to confirm that they are still providing the service, what their wait times and fees are, what ages they provide assessments for, etc. Please note that this is not a comprehensive list and services provided by professionals may change so it is important that families speak with each provider to ensure that they are able to meet their child's needs.
